

Why buy Shur-Co's exclusive Turning Point™ Bow System?

The Turning Point™ Bow System gets the bows out of the way for top loading. Controlled by a pull of the rope, all of the bows move as one – in a single motion, swinging up and over loads without binding. Reverse swing bows are also available.

A center pivoting ridgepole holds the tarp without sagging, so you'll need fewer bows. Angled brackets allow the bows to move freely, for a smooth operation from start to finish.

The patented locking system provides secure support during transport and serves as a skid plate when the bows swing closed.

The Turning Point™ Bow System is now available in an electric version.
